

About THRIVE

THRIVE is Maine's graduated System of Care, and receives funding from Maine Department of Corrections Division of Juvenile Services and the federal Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration.

Services incorporate youth and family perspective through partnerships with Maine Alliance of Family Organizations, Youth Move Maine and individuals with lived experiences in behavioral health, juvenile justice, child welfare and special education systems.

THRIVE provides trainings, technical consultation to state and local organizations as well as to community members with the goal of creating trauma-informed systems.

A trauma-informed system is one that builds off of awareness and knowledge of trauma and creates systemic change by reviewing policies, procedures, settings, and practices ensuring that all trauma-informed principles are met in order to achieve system transformation that promotes growth and healing while preventing (re)traumatization for recipients and providers.
